ABOUT THE ARTISTS

Mark Morris was born on August 29, 1956, in Seattle, Wash., where he studied as a young man with Verla Flowers and Perry Brunson. He performed with a variety of companies in the early years of his career, including the Lar Lubovitch Dance

Company, Hannah Kahn Dance Company, Laura Dean Dancers and Musicians, Eliot Feld Ballet, and the Koleda Balkan Dance Ensemble. He formed the Mark Morris Dance Group (MMDG) in 1980 and has since created more than 100 works for the group and over a dozen commissions for ballet companies, including San Francisco Ballet, Paris Opera Ballet and American Ballet Theater. From 1988 to 1991 he was Director of Dance at the Théâtre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels, the national opera house of Belgium. During his tenure there, he created 12 pieces including three evening-length works: The Hard Nut (his comic book-inspired version of The Nutcracker), L'Allegro, il Penseroso ed il Moderato and Dido and Aeneas. He founded the White Oak Dance Project with Mikhail Baryshnikov. Morris is noted for his musicality – he has been described as “undeviating in his devotion to music” – and for his “ability to conjure so many contradictory styles and emotions.” He has worked extensively in opera. He directed and choreographed a Royal Opera, Covent Garden production of Rameau’s Platée that premiered at the Edinburgh International Festival in 1997 and had its New York debut with The New York City Opera in April 2000 at Lincoln Center. Recently, he directed and choreographed the June 2000 English National Opera production of Four Saints in Three Acts. He was named a fellow of the MacArthur Foundation in 1991, and he is the subject of a biography by Joan Acocella (Farrar, Straus & Giroux).

Mark Morris Dance Group was formed in 1980 and gave its first concert that year in New York City. In the following years, the company’s touring schedule steadily expanded to include cities in the United States and in Europe, and in 1986 the dance group made its first national television program for the PBS Dance in America series. In 1988, the Mark Morris Dance Group was invited to become the national dance company of Belgium. During its three years as resident company of the Théâtre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels, the dance group was the subject of several television programs, including the U.K.’s “South Bank Show.” The company returned to the United States in 1991 as one of the world’s leading dance companies, performing across the United States and at major international festivals.

The dance group has maintained and strengthened its ties to several cities around the world, most notably Berkeley, Calif., where for the past several years the dance group has performed twice annually at CalPerformances including presentations of The Hard Nut each December from 1996 to 2000. Audiences also have become accustomed to the dance group's regular and frequent appearances in Boston, Mass., Seattle, Wash., Fairfax, Va., London, England, and at the Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival in Becket, Mass. The dance group was named the official dance company (2000 to 2005) of the Virginia Waterfront International Arts Festival. In addition to a full international touring schedule, the dance group has completed three film projects: an Emmy Award-winning collaboration with cellist Yo-Yo Ma titled "Falling Down Stairs" using Bach's Third Suite for unaccompanied cello, a film version of Morris' Dido and Aeneas and a video of The Hard Nut. In fall 2000, MMDG was the subject of a second documentary for London's "South Bank Show." In 1997, the dance group won the Laurence Olivier Award for Best New Dance Production for their British premiere performances of L'Allegro, il Penseroso ed il Moderato with English National Opera. The dance group celebrated its 20th anniversary with a three-week season at the Brooklyn Academy of Music in March 2001. In fall 2001, MMDG opened the Mark Morris Dance Center in Brooklyn, N.Y. This 30,000 square-foot facility features three studios, and is the company's first permanent U.S. headquarters.

Joe Bowie, born in Lansing, Mich., began dancing while attending Brown University. After graduating with honors in English and American literature, he moved to New York and performed in the works of Robert Wilson, Ulysses Dove and danced with The Paul Taylor Dance Company for two years, before going to Belgium to work with Mark Morris in 1989.

A modern jazz pianist, Iverson's recordings for the Fresh Sound label include Construction Zone (Originals), Deconstruction Zone (Standards), The Minor Passions, Live at Smalls and, most recently The Bad Plus. These recordings have been placed on The New York Times' Ten Best of the Year lists for 2000, 1999 and 1998, and they caused the prestigious Penguin Guide to Jazz on CD to say that Iverson was "likely to be a major force." In 2001 Iverson's regular trio with Reid Anderson and Billy Hart toured Italy and America. Recent sideman appearances include gigs with the Dave Douglas Sextet and the Mark Turner Quartet. In April 2001, he performed the Patrick Zimmerli Piano Concerto with Metamorphosen in Boston. In August 2001, he played a week at the Village Vanguard with the Kurt Rosenwinkel Quartet. Based in New York City, Koessel appears with a wide range of ensembles and chamber music groups, most notably the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra and The Jupiter Symphony. As a soloist, Koessel has performed the standard as well as unusual cello concerto repertoire with the Jupiter Symphony, the New York Metamorphoses Orchestra, which he co-founded in 1994, the Mannes Orchestra and the Symphony Orchestras of Cordoba, Mendoza, Costa Rica and Stuttgart.
